22 - There is no object in having a number of different rates for the same article. In the case of Sandalwood, the interests of the Oil Factories require that purchase in retail should be prohibited or at any rate, the retail rate should be pitched at a fairly high figure to prevent such purchases being used for Oil distillation in competition with our Oil Factories.

23. The rate for our Oil Factories are supposed to be based on the rates realised at the annual Coorg Sales. This is not strictly enforced; but the lowest of the rates obtained in the auctions since 1916 is being sanctioned.

24 It is not desirable to have another set of rates for woods supplied to the Muzrai Institutions. It is not necessary to fix the rates at frequent intervals.

25. There is no case for reducing the retail sale rates and these ~~same~~ rates may be applied to the Muzrai Institutions as well.

28) The point for consideration is whether the rates for wood supplied by the Mung. contain should be the present enchanted rates which are considerably higher than average enchan rate rates or any the latter rates ~~should be~~. The Cons. is of opinion that the higher retail rate should be charged. If this is considered unnecessary (vide last sentence of Ag. letter dt 7.11.21 supra) then the average enchan rate rates which are fair might be charged. This is known means that the rate can be varied from year to year which is a distinct disadvantage.
